Fusion 400 Personal Trainer

Serious fitness enthusiasts demand versatility and adjustable functionality from their equipment in order to stay creatively challenged and engaged with their workouts. The Fusion 400 delivers enough mold-breaking features and industry-exclusives to keep even the most advanced user challenged to maximize its potential.

The Fusion 400 features a game-changing new press arm and pulley system with isolateral 250° pivots for unmatched versatility and function. Cables have been threaded down its press arms, and both arms also move independently, allowing you to isolate one arm at a time. The arms even rotate on cams, allowing you an unprecedented freedom of positions and movement for your routines.

Dimensions: 83"H x 79"L x 49"W
